

Alzheimer's Association International Conference® 2018

CHeBA's world first study defining the global prevalence of dementia in people aged 95-110 was reported at the 2018 AAIC conference in Chicago on 22 July. It was a privilege for CHeBA to be represented so strongly at this unique event which brought together 5900 people with a collective goal of changing the future of Alzheimer's disease and other dementias.

Call for Volunteers

Are you aged 60 or over and fluent in English? We are seeking volunteers to participate in pilot testing of CHeBA's CogSCAN study. You will be helping us fine tune the study procedures before it is launched. The session will involve an interview, questionnaire, some memory and other cognitive tasks and completion of an evaluation form. Parking or a $30 voucher in appreciation for your time will be provided. For more information contact Study Co-ordinator Karen Allison on k.allison@unsw.edu.au.

Australian Mental Health Prize

Nominations are open for the UNSW School of Psychiatry 2018 Australian Mental Health Prize. CHeBA's Co-Directors Professors Henry Brodaty and Perminder Sachdev, who are both advisory panel members, encourage nominations that will recognise Australians who have made outstanding contributions to either the promotion of mental health, or the prevention/treatment of mental illness.
